

My name is Jessica May and I am new to the faculty at Wichita Friends School. However, I am not totally new to this school. I attended Wichita Friends School, as a student, the first two years it opened its doors. I am one of three teachers in the Early Childhood program; teaching one of the Junior Kindergarten classes. I grew up in Wichita and after high school I moved to Bethany, Oklahoma to attend Southern Nazarene University. I graduated from SNU in May of 2007 with a B.S. in Elementary Education. I stayed in Oklahoma as a director of a new daycare facility. I felt a need to be closer to my family and decided I really wanted to teach so I moved back to Wichita in May of 2008 and was pleased to find out the Wichita Friends School had a teaching position open and thrilled to find out that I was chosen to be the new Junior Kindergarten teacher.

Here is a little extra information about me:

I love kids of all ages. I have 5 younger brothers and sisters. They are 22, 14, 12, 7, and the youngest is 3 years old. I am also excited to be a first time aunt. My sister is expecting her first baby this December (2009). I can not wait to meet my nephew Blayne. I have a crazy Boston terrier named Lexy and she is 1 year old.

I am so excited to see where this year leads me. It is very exciting to be teaching at my old elementary school.
