

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

News Release

Who: Wichita Friends School

What: Had an election to determine who told the true story, the 3 little pigs or the wolf. The whole school community, including parents and staff were involved in the voting. The food served at the victory party was pigs in a blanket and blow pops.

When: Tuesday, November 4, 2008

Why: To practice the election process. Older children campaigned for a candidate with posters, books, and speeches. Everyone had to register to be eligible to vote, and each registered voter was allowed to vote.

Other details: Students read books written from each perspective and the wolf won.
